EPOCH IN THE CITY'S HISTORY

MAYOR DAVIS SIGNS THE GAP CLOS-ING PAVING ORDINANCES.

This is the Regioning of the Systematic Improvement of the Streets From the Business Center of the City Limits-More Paying Proposed.

Mayor Davis yesterday placed his signature on the ordinances providing for pay-ing the gaps on many of the principal effects of the city, that were passed by the city council at the last meeting, and the work will be begun at once. It is gratifythe to the taxpayers to see the council a so promptly upon the suggestion that the city be paved systematically, and take no tion to make the paving upon the principal streets continuous and uniform. It marks an spoch in the history of the city that cannot fail to bring many advantages to the taxpayer, better results to the city and

According to the ordinances that were signed yesterday asphalt paying is to be placed on most of the streets. In each in-stance, save one, the paris to be payed will close up gaps that have detracted from the appearance and value of the improvements made on the entire street. The work on the Journal's suggestions at an early date. The paving provided for in the ordinances is to be put down on Ninth street, from W to be put down on Ninin street, from Forest to Lodia avenue: Wabash avenue, from Sixth to Eighth street; Tracy avenue, from Twelfth to Fifteenth street; Jefferson street, from Fourteenth to Skitcenth atreet; Troost avenue, from Twelfth to Nineteenth street, and Broadway, from Sixth to Tenth street, ifrick paving is to be put down on Thriteenth street, from Hickory to Liberty street.

In addition to all this, there are several th addition to all this, there are several resolutions and ordinances for the work needed on the other streets pending, so that with what is started and that which is in contemplation the city will have a satis-factory amount of first-class paving done factory amount of first-class paying done the present year.

One feature of the work that commends itself to the taxpayer is that there appears to be an effort well directed to pave the uppayed portions of the business district, so that there may be a center from which the line of improvements may run in different directions, and give to the city a systematic expansion of its payed area. Some of the stream which property owners have been fighting the improvements will yet be payed, as in several instances there has been a change of heart and opinion on the subject. The favorable aspect is gratifying to the city fathers and shows a concert of progressive sentiments that cannot fail to be of great value to the city in many ways.

cent of progressive sentiments that cannot fall to be of great value to the city in many ways.

The city cannot fall to make a good impression by having better streets and more paving during the fall festivities this fall. It was noticeable last year that the poople were scattered over a greater partion of the city than in former years. This year, according to the programme, they will be scattered much more than even last year, and the more paved streets there are the better for the city, and the more friends will be made.

The value of having the open spaces of streets closed and continuous paving put down is apparent to the taxpayers, and there are many who do not hesitate to express their appreciation of the effort that is being made in behalf of systematic paving. Among the number is Mr. Milton Welsh, surveyor of the port of Kansas City. Yesterlay, in talking of the matter with a Journal representative, he said:

"The idea and suggestions of the Journal deserve support, for they are right and proper. There should be used only the best of material and the paving should be put down for permanent service. Patchwork paving and temporary expedients have cost the city and the taxpayers many thousands of dollars, and any plan that promises better results for the expenditure of the sums required for public work is deserving of support and adoption. I am pleased with the suggestions of the Journal and feel that the city would be winner by their adoption. Suggestions for the improvement of the work done are certain to be viewed favorably by the city officials who have supervision of that work, and adopted just as far as may be possible to use them."

Postmaster Homer Reed is apother property owner who has had an abundance of adopted just as far as may be possible to use them."

Postmaster Homer Reed is another property owner who has had an abundance of experience in the matters of paving and street improvements, and can speak from actual experience on the subject. He believes that some plan should be adopted whereby one-third of the cost of paving should be assessed as a general tax on the city at large, so that the property owner would have but the remaining two-thirds to pay. He feels that would result in a great boom in improvements and that nearly all of the residence portion of the city would be improved at once. He is in sympathy with the Journal's plan and would like to see it carried out so far as the work is done. like to see it carried out so far as the work is done.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

Further Consideration of the Proposition to Regrade McGee Street Indefinitely Postponed-Paving Recommended.

The proposition to grade McGes street from Sixth to Eighth street, and to change the grade of several cross streets, which has been under consideration by the board of public works for some time, was tem-has been under consideration by the beard of public works for some time, was temporarily disposed of yesterday by the board by being indefinitely postponed. When the board met several McGes street property owners were present to argue both sides of the question. Mesers, William Vineyard, George Holmes and Robert McClintock were against the proposed gradins, while R. H. Hunt, P. S. Brown and J. Newburg wished to see the work done. All of the members of the board were present, and postponed the matter by a manimous vote.

The board received two communications from cilizens. One was from Alfred Greggry, who states that on last Sunday his buggy broke down on Merrill avenue on account of the poorly paved combition of the street. He said the street should be repaved. E. O. Maffatt, who has just tenuned from a trip through the East, wrote regarding the paving of Troost avenue from Twelfth to Ninetsenth street. He said that the Metropolitan Street Railway tompany should be compelled to plave between the tracks of its Troost avenue line, as under the present circumstances grows between the tracks of its Troost avenue in appearance of a country road misteal of that of a city street. Both of the communications were filed.

The board recommended the paving of these streets: Grand avenue from Third to Park avenue, with asphalt; Sixth street from Prospect to Park avenue, with asphalt; Fifteenth street from Woodland avenue to the city limits, with macadam.

IN NEED OF AID.

A Sick Man and His Wife and Children in a Destitute Condition.

Humane Officer Sherlock is investigating a case of destitution reported to the police yesterday by Captain Phillips, of police precinct No. t. On his rounds Thursday Officer Cassidy discovered a sick man, his Officer Cassidy discovered a sick man, his wife and five children, without food at No 2625 Woodland avenue. They were apparently starving to death, and Sanford Briggs, the father, had been sick for six weeks. Some time ago Mrs. Briggs received 33 from the Humane Society, but has spent every cent of the money for food and medicine.

The agent having charge of the house is said to have threatened the Briggs family with forcible removal if the rent is not paid soon. Humane Officer Sheriock will see that the Briggs family receive proper food.

Flower Girls Must Not Enter Saloons. Hower Girls Must Not Enter Saloons. Humane Officer Sherlock is preparing to make a fight against flower girls being allowed to sell flowers in saloons. Frequent complaint has been made lately to members of the Humane Society that little flower girls are allowed to enter saloons with impunity and dispose of their wares. There is an ordinance in force in the city making saloon keepers liable to nine for permitting minors to frequent being places, and the humane officials will take steps at once to stop the violation of the ordinance. Agent Sherlock yesterday notified the owner of a saloon on Walnut street that any further violation of the law in that respect would lead to his prosecution.

SEVERAL NEW CORPS.

Will Be Established by Brigadler Sully, of the Salvation Army, in Kansas, Ar-kansas and Texas.

Brigadier Sully, who returned from Wa-co, Tex., yesterday morning, is busy upon a number of important extensions and changes to be made in the Southwestern chief division of the Salvation Army, of changes to be made in the Southwestern chief division of the Saivation Army, of which he is the commander and this city is the heasiquarters. Up to the present time the army has done little work in Arkansas, but now it is proposed to begin an active campaign in that state. Corps will be organized at there are produced by the organized at the army is already located at Eureka Springs and Payetteville. A corps will be organized also, in Paris, Tex, where the most prominent citizens have become greatly micrested in the army and are offering it the use of a larse hill.

In Kansas Atchison and Leavenworth, the only large towns in the state now uncocupied, will be occupied as soon as possible. No corps of the army has ever been stationed in either city. Some years ago both places were occupied by bogus corps who claimed contection with the army, but had none whatever. They soon disbanded. Brigadler Sully says that they left a bad impression which the army will endeavor to dissipate.

A new corps will be organized in this city, but where has not yet been definitely decided, it will be stationed either in the East bottoms or on the state line. Immediately after the campaign to be held at Fairmount park the latter part of this month there will be a wholesale shifting of officers. Nearly fifty of them will be effected. The assignment of officers to the new stations will be made at the same time. There will be changes at the Eightententh street station, the Kansas City, Kas, station and the Armourdale station.

SWINDLING THE CONDUCTORS. Game on Metropolitan Con-

The police were notified last night that a man described as having a sandy mustache and wearing genteel clothes, has been practhe Metropolitan street car conductors the past two days. His mode of operation stamps him as an old hand at the busistamps him as an old hand at the business. Boarding a street car be will approach the conductor, mildly stating that he is a friend of the officials of the road, making use of several names familiar to the conductor. He supplants this statement, saying that he has left his pocket-book at home and requests the loan of to cents to pay fare for some ladies who are awaiting him downtown. In most instances his requests have been granted and at a convenient crossing the stranger disappears. His work has been confined thus far to the Fifth and Eighteenth street cable lines, but it is expected that he will attempt to work conductors on other lines in the city.

ANOTHER BIG HOUSE.

Auditorium at Fairmount Park Was Packed Again Last Night.

Another house, packed to the doors greeted the vaudeville show at the Pair mount auditorium again last night. The success of this form of entertainment seems almost phenomenal and is certainly un almost phenomenal and is certainly unprecedented in amusement annals in Kansas City, but it is scarcely to be wondered at when it is taken into consideration that a $1 or $1.58 show is being given for $2 cents. The last opportunity to see this week's favorities will be given this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the matinee and this evening at $2.50 o'clock, as beginning next week thers is to be the usual change of bill, with entirely new people. Maurice L. Sullivan entered suit in Justice Spitz' court Thurstay afternoon to recover by writ of attachment. $21, which he claimed was due from Robert Turner et al, bookmakers at the Exposition park race track. Mr. Sullivan, in his application, sets forth that on Tuesday last he had purchased a ticket from Turner naming the horse Wedgefield as winner in a certain race at olds of 15 to 1. When the race was finished it was seen that Wedgehold had won. The judges, however, gave the race to Brown Dick, stating that he had been pulled in order to down the bookmakers. Mr. Sullivan presented his toket to Mr. Turner for payment, but was informed that all bets had been declared off. He was justly disgusted and later when he learned that Wedgefield had been awarded the stake money, he came to town, sought out justice Spitz and made an application to have the Turner hookmaking stand at acched for $11. Constable Vaughn went to the race truck to serve the papers, but before he had a chance to exercise his prerogative Mr. Turner paid the amount of the suit, along with the costs, and the case was dismissed.

It is said that the two railroad men klaked at the door, and that Thomasot also kicked the door. Thereupon Counties kicked at the door, and that Thomasen also kicked the door. Thereupen Cumiliar ham and Cullom both shoved open the door, and, acording to Thomason's story, became heating him. The latter drow his packetsking, which has a three inch blade, and began stashing at his assailants. He fought them back into the saloon, cutting Cumilingham four times, twice in the grounding them four times, twice in the grounding them have him and once in the left hip and once in the left hip and once in the left hip and once in the left sade, just below the ribs. The latter thrust was quite deep. The point of the knife entered cumilingham's left hung Cullom ratreated soon after the trouble began to the saloon door. Hip more is broken and he has a deep gash between his eyes. It is not known who his him.

While the flath was in progress a man, whom Thomason says was Robert Shannon, a frequentier of the race tracks, entered the saloon and after arming himself with a beer bottle, sarried to assist him. In attempting to strike Cumiliaham, with the beer bottle, he missed his aim, and struck Thomason on the hand, cutting a deep gash.

Cumiliaham fell to the floor after being stabled the fourth time and zone men, who had entered the saloon, restrained Thomason from further use of his kuife.

Another account of the course of the fight is that Shannon first threw the beer bottle at Cunningham and, missting him, it found a longing place on the top of Thomason's head. This threw Thomason into a violent rage and he started to use his knife with the results stated.

When Cunningham was found to be seriously injured, the police ambulance was called and conveyed him and Cullom and Thomason to police headquarters, where Assistant Police Surgeon Landon dressed their wounds.
